ABOUT ME

I was born in 2007 and currently live in Dushanbe. I am a creative and motivated individual with experience in teaching young children and teenagers in multiple languages, including Russian, Tajik, and English. In addition to my teaching background, I have skills in front-end development and website creation. I am passionate about combining creativity and technology, bringing innovative ideas to both educational and digital projects. I am committed to continuous learning, growth, and delivering high-quality work in every field I explore.
